WORLDSKILLS WIN FOR FORESTRYSA

ForestrySA has demonstrated its administrative skills training is among the best in the country.

Mount Gambier accounts employee Nikita Block won gold at the 2008 Worldskills Australia National Competition in Sydney on Monday night.

Nikita was awarded the business services category trophy, following two days of competition.

This was the same award won by ForestrySA colleague Jodie Taylor last year, who was invited to return in 2008 as an event ambassador.

“Because the competition is national, it is great to include in your resume and is reward for hard work,” Miss Block said.

WorldSkills promotes excellence across more than 50 trade and skill categories and was held in Sydney from July 11 to 13.
